"Home"

I'm slowly counting, out on the sideway
The bricks that lead me home
The air around, the grey that I see
Don't relieve no more
You know, I'm stuck, taken over, guess I'm out of luck
'Cause I feel you took it all tonight

Out on the sideway, the bricks that lead me home
You know I'm stuck, taken over, guess I'm out of luck
'Cause I feel you took it

And I'm so far away from home
Oh how I miss to be with a good old family
You know I'm so far away from home
Wherever I may roam, there's no place like home
There's no place like home

I was always believing
That the road was paved for me
And there's nothing changed back home, I'm certain
It just hurts to feel alone you see
You know I'm stuck, taken over, guess I'm out of luck
'Cause I feel I've lost it

And I'm so far away from home
Oh how I miss to be with a good old family
You know I'm so far away from home
Wherever I may roam, there's no place like home
There's no place like home

And the lights are fading
Making it so hard to see
What's left of me; alone
No masquerade toninght
I think I'm quite alright
Gonna find my way out
To bring me back were I belong
Making my way back home
How I missed, how I wished to be around

And you know I'm so far away from home

Oh how I miss to be with a good old family
I'm so far away from home
Wherever I may roam, there's no place like home
I'm so far away from home
Wherever I may roam, there's no place like home
There's no place like home
