you know what i'm saying it happened long ago for reasons i don't want to know the only thing i learned i know you won't return and i'm doomed to a life i don't wanna know but i keep moving on and hope i'm hanging on now i'm stuck here singing no i don't belong but we were wrong we were wrong to get involved now it's all our fault it's turned into something we don't need but i didn't know what shame it was and it's all my fault i know i said somethings that i don't mean let go tell me why cause i don't know the reasons that you had to go the reasons that you said goodbye come back

i may be down but i'm still intact and holding on i can't look back does it make you wonder why how could i be so blind? i spent last summer waiting waiting for a chance last in line but i got no patience
and i'm still stuck here singing no i won't be heard everyone is staring at me now but it's not the same
i didn't know it doesn't mean you have to go far away
i didn't know
it doesn't mean we have to throw it away
i didn't know
i can't believe it but i see it and i can't change your mind cause i can't change your mind
