What's making you blue
Is it something I said
Is it something that I did
Or is it something inside of you
That's making you...

I don't know what to think
When you turn your head away
Is there something I can say
You're all alone in your suffering

What to do with the sad and silent
If you were mad and violent
I could fight you
What to say to your quiet sorrow
You'll be alright tomorrow

What's making you blue

What's making you blue
Oh, would that I could see
Is this about me
Or is it something deep within you

What to do with the sad and silent
If you were mad and violent
I could fight you
What to say to your quiet sorrow
You'll be alright tomorrow

What's making you blue
Is it something that I said
Is it something I did
Or is it something inside of you
That's making you
Blue
What's making you
Blue
Blue
