There is so much I wanna tell you
But I just can't seem to speak out loud
Look at you standing in my doorway

How can you live through stormy weather
Searching for height 'till lightning strikes
Look at you standing in my shadow
You seem to enjoy yourself

I blow you away
Burn right through you

Would it be nice if I'd give myself over
Would it be nice if I give it away
Would it be nice if I would care what people say
Would have been nice

How does it feel to stay around
When nobody cares if you're around
You're in a search for conversation
Getting to know yourself

I blow you away
Burn right through you

Would it be nice if I'd give myself over
Would it be nice if I give it away
Would it be nice if I would care what people say
Would have been nice
Oh, would it be nice

Would it be nice if I'd give myself over
Would it be nice if I give it away
Would it be nice if I'd give myself over
Would it be nice if I give it away
Would it be nice if I'd give myself over
Would it be nice if I give it away
Would have been, would have been, would have been nice
