You tell me you're gone

But you don't tell me the reason

Why I must be alone with this much confusion

You tell me it's better to spare me the pain

But you leave me the mystery to drive me insane

I just wanna know why, I just wanna know

Cause if I knew why I can let it go

And ease my mind and make some sense of it

I just wanna know why

I waited a long time for love to come

The first sign of trouble then you're gonna run

Before you leave me alone

I just wanna know why

Outside the window the season is changed

The feelings I felt then it all stayed the same

And in through that window comes a cruel light of dawn

It sheds no light on the question of where I went wrong

I just wanna know why, I just wanna know

Cause if I knew why I can let it go

And ease my mind and make some sense of it

I just wanna know why

I waited a long time for love to come
The first sign of trouble then you're gonna run
Before you leave me alone
I just wanna know why
Tell me something that I don't know
If I hurt you I'm unaware
There's a reason for everything
So why are some things so unfair
I just wanna know why, I just wanna know
Cause if I knew why I can let it go
And ease my mind and make some sense of it
I just wanna know why
I waited a long time for love to come
The first sign of trouble then you're gonna run
Before you leave me alone
I just wanna know why
I just wanna know why yeah
I just wanna know why
