it's been a long, long time since i've seen your face right before my eyes.
i could never forget it, it is so clear,
i know nothing could hide it.

because you're one in a million,
two makes a billion,
everyone can see what you've done to me.
because i want to be near you
so i could hear you,
all those sweet things you say.
because i know
what i am feeling.
do you feel the same way too?
because you and me,
we make a perfect example
for this world to see.

please come talk to me.
i want to know everything about you,
what's inside your heart.
i would do the same for you,
there's no reason to hide.
