Verse 1:

Thought that you would be a real good friend
But the lies that you tell have got to end
I wonder why you play these games
When I know that I am not to blame

Heard it form a real good source
That you've been talking bout me
It doesn't take a fool to see
That it was just your jealousy

Girlfriend: What are you talking about? Girl you are trippin. We've been friends to long for you to be listening to that he say, she say.

Verse 2:

Remember the time that we first met
At the nail salon I won't forget
Talkin bout your boyfriend then
Frontin like he was the man

You thought that he was after me
Showing your insecurities
Get a grip where's you head at Girlfriend I don't roll like that

CHORUS:

All you did was plant the seed
And now I'm just the enemy
My so-called friend just let me be
So, stop with all your jealousy

Verse 3:

I know just were to place the blame
It started with this jealous game
Jealousy consumes the soul
It makes you want to loose control

It started with your jealousy
You want what you can't have
THAT'S ME!!!!
It doesn't take a fool to see
That it was just your jealousy

BRIDGE:

Your jealousy's got a hold on you
You lied so much you think it's true
Think before you even speak
Your jealousy has got you weak
Talkin like you got real game
Now look at who's the one to blame
I should've listen to my heart
You've been fake, right from the start

CHORUS:

All you did was plant the seed
And now I'm just the enemy
My so-called friend just let me be
So, stop with all your jealousy

CHORUS:

All you did was plant the seed
And now I'm just the enemy
My so-called friend just let me be
So, stop with all your jealousy

Ooh, my so, called friend stop with all your jealousy.
Your jealousy
Stop with all your jealousy
I suppose to be your friend
How could you do this to me?
