It's time, I never saw it coming, did I?
These days of ferocity: Over and out
Just serenity

The smoke dissolved, but the fire burns bright I've opened my eyes again
Soon I'll be gone but it won't be in vain

I've had enough of gunning around
My job is done
My job is done

So this is my final goodbye
It's time for me to loosen up my grip
And let my seed grow
And live my life on my own

Now let's wipe those tears away
I want you
I want you to carry on my tale That's what we friends are for
To be remembered when we don't breathe no more

So this is the end of a legend?
No, a man - Who's broken to the core
I don't want to spend my life on healing
To feel alive; that's my cure

I've had enough of gunning around
My job is done
My job is done

So this is my final goodbye
It's time for me to loosen up my grip
and let my seed grow
and live my life on my own

(Goodbye)

So this is my final goodbye

It's time for me to loosen up my grip
and let my seed grow

Soon I'll let myself go
And for this
I am whole
I am whole

So this is my final goodbye
It's time for me to loosen up my grip
and let my seed grow
and live my life on my own

So this is my final chapter
I vowed that I'd see everybody off and take a good look Cause I'll be gone soon

"So this is my final moment
It's time for me to let go of your hand and let my soul fade
(We all meet again, in another life)"
