In the first row at the front of the frontlines stick your neck out believe in your right to exercise a free will, own opinions and Show some stamina, stay ahead of the line yeah!

We stand in line to defend our opinions
One by one we try to settle the score
When all you need is some serious enlightenment
To back up your knowledge and prove your damn points!

The barrier is breached and the barricades is torn down
Defence! defence! lingers the night too hard, too rough, too furious
My mind and word is my weapons of choice We try to improve our own tactics and Find that argument to conquer them all But all you need is some serious enlightenment back up our knowledge and prove our damn points!

Do you hear me?!

Don't burn the bridge just build them up!
Brace yourself as you head for the wall
Take a stance with both feet on the concrete You pause, aim, breathe, concentrate all that!
You stand in line to defend our opinions
One by one we try to settle the score
When all you need is some serious enlightenment
To back up your knowledge and prove your goddamn.....points!

We stand in line to defend our opinions and One by one try to settle the score
When all you need is some serious enlightenment
Back up your knowledge and hold your assistance and Prove, you got to prove your goddamn point
(You throw a finger at them, Yeah, throw a finger at them)
Prove, you got to prove your goddamn point!

(You throw a finger at them,
Yeah, throw a finger at them)
Cus punk! your words of wisdom should be bulletproof try to stand tall when you are under fire!
