Sometimes I wanna kill, sometimes I am confused
Sometimes I want to chill, sometimes just want to move
If the ringing starts in my head and the blood is cooking my veins it is the last day here on earth
'till I fall from grave for her

Sometimes I wanna kill, sometimes I am confused
Sometimes I want to chill, sometimes just want to move

Hail hail hail there is just one God, the doctor in my veins
hail hail hail the emperor in me, hail hail how to spell
heroin

All I care is daying, all I care the pain in my laughs
I don't care about my lieings, I don't care about you Let my body turn, let my body dance, let me be a part of this big called revolution

veins
Hail hail hail the emperor in me, hail hail how to spell
heroin

veins
Hail hail hail the emperor in me, hail hail how to spell
heroin
