If you hadn't been awakened
You wouldn't have started screaming
You wouldn't have pushed me around
And yesterday
Means nothing to me

In times of stress and discomfort
It's good to know you can count on someone
To help you out in need
Get you back on your feet
Back on your feet

If you're lost
You will find me
Standing there
Where you can't see
How I'm covering up the mess you leave behind you

I will pick you up
When you're falling
Hold your head up high keep calling
One thing I'll never go
Is let them get to you
Before me

Now someone held a mirror to your face
Someone started knocking
Knocking on your door
Just like I did
So many times before

But you couldn't stand the distance
You didn't even bother
To look me right in the eye
Now it's officially goodbye

If you're lost
You will find me
Standing there
Where you can't see
How I'm covering up the mess you leave behind you

I will pick you up
When you're falling
Hold your head up high keep calling
One thing I'll never go
Is let them get to you
Before me
