I dare You, the promises we make
I know we have everything at stake
I give you the blossom of my faith
With you by my side, heaven can wait

I don't believe in anyone
Who never ever gives it a try
But If I can say that I believe
Then I will not be wondering why

I pray for them sinners in the dark
I see how you wrestle, life is hard
Now God stretches out an empty hand
Aware that I will not understand

I don't believe in anyone
Who never ever gives it a try
But If I can say that I believe
Then I will not be wondering why
I will not be wondering why

If we break it
We won't make it
If we break it
We won't make it
If we break it
Then we won't make it

Is it dark
Hard to see, follow me
I'll hold you by your hand so tenderly
If you dare
Come and see
Closer we'll be
I see you walking next to me
