Storm, The
"Honesty"

I was true
Cyrstal clear
You smashed me to pices
A golden word
Split the truth
And it won't be the last time

But I believe in honesty
It tends to show me who you really are
And I can see it's the hardest road to follow
So come and show me who you really are

A thousand songs
Can't describe
The hell I was fighting
Someone said
You're losing your head
And it won't be the last time

But I believe in honesty
It tends to show me who you really are
And I can see
It's the hardest road to follow
So come and show me who you really are
I wanna know just who you really are
