Tell me where you've been and where you want to go
The things that pass you by and things you won't let go
Every day a thousand decisions
What is right in every situation
Is there someone to trust that you can turn to Every time you don't know what to do

Tell me what you think of God
What does he mean to you
Tell me is it hard to be
All that He sees in you
Tell me what you think of God
Cause He believes in you

Tell me things you want
Things you can't stand to see
Tell me things you love
Things that should never be
Every moment another decision
Playing into a perfect orchestration
Of who you were
And who you are today
What you've seen
And what you wanna say

Tell me what you think of God
What does he mean to you
Tell me is it hard to be
All that He sees in you
Tell me what you think of God
Cause He believes in you

All the things that you've been afraid to ask
All the shame that you've tried so hard to mask
Maybe now's the time for you to turnaround
Don't just sit there get up off the ground
Off the ground
