Well, once again you have decided to visit me in my tower. You are most welcome. I take it that you have come to hear the rest of the story about the book of mystery? Hmm, let's see where we ended the last time you were here... Oh, yes now I remember.

When we ended your last visit we left our travelers in the camp of thieves.
And the magic book?
No one knew where it was. Perhaps it is just lying somewhere, waiting to be found. That is if we're lucky.

Well, are you ready to go into the time of the stories once again? Then close your eyes and come with me.
