Evil is spreading around the world, like a deadly decease

The army of darkness has just one goal
Death and destruction to all
Wanting the powers of evil revealed
Forcing the mankind to kneel

Now they're coming from the seas, all with weapon in hand
The are raping, they are killing
They try to take over our land
So it's time it's your destiny, help the mankind get free

So take your sword and saddle your horse
And be ready to fight for your life
And make the people, to put on their weapons
And fight the evil one

With powers received from the god of light
You're preparing to fight
Joined by an army that never kneels
And worships the blessing of steel
Will you all be victorious or will you die?
It's darkness of light

So take your sword and saddle your horse
And be ready to fight for your life
And make the people, to put on their weapons
And fight the evil one

A strange kind of darkness sinks over the battlefield
The enemy soldiers lies bleeding all over the field
The fear in their eyes when you show them true sense of steel

So take your sword and saddle your horse
And be ready to fight for your life
And make the people, to put on their weapons
And fight the evil one
Fight the evil one
And saddle your horse

And be ready to fight for your life
So put on the weapons
And fight the evil one, the evil one
