There is no warmth for you here
I let it go with the tide
I shudder now to the touch
This life is none but a trial
I heard 'em say in a cold heart
Abides a desparate one
And everything's aflame to me
I haven't moved since you've gone
Where do we go from here?

Take 'em back, take 'em back to the start
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers
Take 'em back, take 'em back through the dark
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers

And lust that covered remorse
It quickly sours and shames
And nameless faces to fill the time are only shackles and chains
So put one hand into its other
And pray that our sins don't follow eachother
Already so far from heaven
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go from here?

Take 'em back, take 'em back to the start
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers
Take 'em back, take 'em back to the dark
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers

[Hush, hush
You're mine tonight
Hush, hush

You're mine tonight
Just once, re-live the lie
Stay close, you're mine 'till daylight] x3

[Hush, hush (fade away, fade away)
You're mine tonight] x7

Take 'em back, take 'em back to the start
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers
Take 'em back, take 'em back to the dark
To find the seeds of a broken heart
Will you find me some answers?
Well, find me some answers
