Speak soft, move slow
We're just trying to forget ourselves
And lo, we found more ways that you know.
Look through, drown out
It's another sermon we can live without
If it's too complicated
Then this wasn't for you

Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember
Lonely nights and blackout fights forever
Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember
Lonely nights and blackout fights forever

You were made too cold
You weren't meant for love weren't meant to hold
I was never good enough.
Do you recall, how we drowned the town
With sounds that made our world spin out, stagger round?

Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember
Lonely nights and blackout fights forever
Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember
Lonely nights and blackout fights forever

Early morning at the airport bar
Two more shots to race my heart
Could never chase me anyway
Still young enough to change my name
[And if it's too much to take
Thank God we're barely awake] x2

Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember
Lonely nights and blackout fights forever
Love letter, love letter
To the ones I can't remember

Lonely nights and blackout fights forever
