A friend is someone who cares for you whose there for you and will never let you down A friend is someone who hugs you for no reason who calls you just to talk who you can depend on Friends are people you can trust who will never lit to you Friends are things we all need Without them, you'll feel blue The only problem that comes with them is knowing who to pick because if your friend turns to a foe they'll break you like a stick A friend makes you feel rich when really you are poor and life teaches us that:
If you have friends, you need no more
