Not one to be alarmist panic's not really my style.
Dealing with my nervousness and forcing a smile... see?
I'm good at coping Cool, poised, self-controlled
No that's OK I'll be alright
These are coffee shakes, that's all
Quit Quit I can't Quit
Quit Quit I can't Quit

Eager for a challenge Sure I wasn't over my head
Had the very best intentions
The tougher, the better, I said I know you're very busy,
I can see you're working very hard, but I'm scared
Don't want to interrupt you But I've got to tell somebody that there's big trouble here Run for cover and say your prayers!

Everything was researched followed the best advice Spent days on end in reference confirmed all sources twice Realistic expectations practical methods and tests Confident in the outcome final result this crisis
Quit Quit I can't Quit
Quit Quit I can't Quit

Every angle, every option checked my facts again and again Tore it apart a thousand times and stood it on its head Went over it and over it considered different points of view Put things in perspective but I can't find the error no ideas, no clues Well, what the Hell am I supposed to do?

I've really got a problem here
...Quit... no... no problem

I'd rather not admit it this is hard for me to say I'm proud and independent and I don't like to make mistakes But all I need is a different slant and objective overview And I couldn't keep from thinkin' just what it was you'd do
Quit Quit I can't Quit
Quit Quit I can't Quit

You'd pull this all together as if it were routine Dazzle me with logic brilliant line of reasoning You'd crack through solutions your genius on demand You could move a little faster hurry up and get us out of this jam Cause I've given up, I Quit, I can't
