I think it's gonna explode
Put it under water let it go
Don't forget to cut the yellow wires
Oh no
We were sure that it was indestructible

The same doesn't feel the same
It doesn't feel the same
The same doesn't feel the same anymore

And then the room caught fire
I tried to put it out the flames got higher
I wasn't wearing my protective gear
Oh no
We were only trying to feed it oxygen

The same doesn't feel the same
It doesn't feel the same
The same doesn't feel the same anymore

When the smoke had cleared
And the sirens disappeared
You smiled up at me from your magazine
And I could say
That everything has changed
But maybe it's just me
Maybe it's just me

The same doesn't feel the same
It doesn't feel the same
The same doesn't feel the same anymore
