We run around in circles, chasing our own tails until we scream,
"Alright already, we're ripe for the American dream."
And messed up mascara,
Who's next on the wall of fame?

Because you are the center of attention,
With your windows rolled right down.
And you got an honorable mention,
Blasting through your speakers so everyone can see
You got a new cadillac.

A generation destined for all you believe,
Our brains are rotting watching brain surgery on the TV.
'Cause we're locked and loaded,
And we don't give a f*** what you believe.

You are the center of attention,
With your windows rolled right down.
And you got an honorable mention,
Blasting through your speakers so everyone can see
You got a new cadillac.

We got it all, but we want more.
Where's the line for the fantasy?
The record stalls and hits the floor,
Before you make me, break me, 'cause...

We are the center of attention,
With our windows rolled right down.
We got an honorable mention,
Blasting through our speakers so everyone can see
We got a new cadillac.
We got a new cadillac.
We got a new cadillac.
We got a new cadillac.
