"Under The Moonlight"

The weight of the world has fallen on me again
I wish to God I never did lie
The weight of the world has fallen on me again
But least I've tried

I felt the cut off the knife as it broke my skin
Least I've tried
I felt the beat of the drum as it was kicking in

Least I know, there's always another song

The weight of the world has fallen on me again
I swear to God I never did lie
The weight of the world has fallen on me again
But least I've tried

I felt the shock of the punch as it cracked my jaw
Least I've tried
I smelt the fear in your tears as they left your eyes

At least I know, there's always another song

I'm not gonna, I'm not gonna lie
When I kiss you under the moonlight
Little darling, It makes me feel alive
