You open the door

I let myself in between

You and me

I only believe what I want to believe

I guess it's because I'm greener than green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm greener than green

I came up to the floor

You were dressed just a little obscene

And you shut me down

Quite sexually like a preadolescent because I'm greener than green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm greener than green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm green

Only because I'm greener than green
