you know when you feel it you know when it hits you no mistaking when you fall you dont anticipate it and you cant calculate it it just comes crashing through your wall

i love you till the sky falls down i love you till i cant feel anything , not anything at all and even when youre not around
i love you till the sky falls down

i love you till the sky falls down
i love you till i cant feel anything , not anything at all
i love you till the sky falls down

you lose all sense of reason you have no sense of danger its like youre living in a dream its lets you float thru the clouds and it lets you smile at strangers its just the greatest thing of being oooooh

i love you till the sky falls down
i love you till i cant feel anything not anything at all
i love you till the sky falls down im flying till i hit the ground lying there i dont feel anything , not anything at all

and even when youre not around
i love you till the sky falls down

i love you till the sky falls down
i love you till i cant feel anything , not anything at all
i love you till the sky falls down
