Everything was beautiful, everything was fine

All the world was me and you and then there came a time

I realized the plans we made were never gonna be

And there'd just be your memory

And lonely me

Memories begone, why can't you go on

And leave me to my dreams of how it was with her

And lonely me

I'd like to tell you how I feel when words are hard to find

If I had only given more, most often comes to mind

But this world's not built on dreams and it's never gonna be

So this house just holds some could-have-beens

And lonely me

Memories begone, why can't you go on

And leave me to my dreams of how it was with her

And lonely me

And lonely me
