

Submarines, The "Clouds"

Visit "Clouds" on MotoLyrics.com it's not so far to go but tonight i won't be coming home i've come here on my own when our nights and days turned to months and years and i forgot how to be alone i forgot how to love but don't cry my baby there's blue skies before you and even when the clouds roll in i still want you near me when i found my place here in this new room everything went quiet and clear and i could feel again and i missed you the whole of me missed holding you but i won't cry my baby there's blue skies before me and even when the clouds roll in

i still want you near me

when i said i'm not in love you made me count the ways but i couldn't hope to be both cause and balm for pain well it breaks my heart to break your heart i know that means i'm still in love so don't cry my baby there's blue skies before you

and even when the clouds roll in
i still want you near me

Visit Submarines, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.