Heavy is the mind that can't be told when it's time to let it go Heavy is the heart filled so full with sorrow Well work can't help a single thing but when we're out of our heads at least we're out in the open Warning signs of a troubled mind It's all the things we can't see and can't hide

{chorus}

But when you kiss me in ways I've forgotten love is a swimming pool with no bottom we've got to hold on water is rising

Well all we ever want is to be loved whether sun or stars above all our trouble, all our toil is toward no greater earthly goal so nevermind what logic says I say logic is a guy who ought to empty his pockets all we want is an open mind you know the kind you can't earn or can't buy

{chorus}

Everyone spends a little time fighting the drift back out to the deep end when I ask you to throw me a line that's when you pull me out by the heart string

We thought the weight of the world would have us sinking like a stone if we should ever lose our hold but we rise to the surface the moment that we know there is nothing to fear

{chorus} x2
