Another day is here and im still alive
I say these words aloud they speak of the inside
Everytime i see you, you just walk away
Still the world is turning...

I want to hear what you have got to say

My mind is all made up I'm doing all i can
I'm trying hard to think but i can't understand
Why everytime i see you, you just walk away
Still the world is turning,
But i will not complain

My head is spinnin' round i don't know what to do
If I'm so happy I've got everything to lose
And everytime i see you, I can't stand to stay
And now it's always raning,
And you're the one to blame

And everytime i see you,
you just walk away-ay-ay-ay
Still the world is turning...

I want to hear what you have got to say
