feeling tired and feeling beat i laid right down and feel asleep there she was just like before turned around and slammed the door too many times, too many nights tried to talk about - but only fight what makes them change and turn away what makes them cold, to what we say a foolish thought - a foolish game i'm begging you and i feel ashamed over my shoulder, I see it all waking up still I recall no, I can't help myself oh baby, I'm lost in you
no, I can't help myself

too many cold days - too many nights tried to talk about
without love, right could be wrong I will dance upon the ice gotta stand straight up in line have to burn my heart on and on
no, I can't help myself
baby I'm lost in you
baby I'm lost in you
