You point me out as a leader
A voice for the insane and depraved
You say I condone all that's unfair
You say that I will never be saved
You try to tell them that I'm not right
I'm evil and I'm nothing but wrong
You go about pointing fingers and raving
For what I've said in a song

You say we have no positive content
I can't pretend everything's alright
You say I have no positive content
Open your mind and behold the sight

Your blind eyes haven't seen the world
The one in which we reside
It's full of thousands of things much worse
That's what you need to realize
You say I turn your sons into demons and your daughters into whores
Your perfect life is so fucking fake
They've been up to that long before

You say we have no positive content
I can't pretend everything's alright
You say I have no positive content
Open your mind and behold the sight
You say we have no positive content
I can't pretend everything's alright
You say I have no positive content
Open your mind and behold the sight

Realization will never set in to the mind that isn't fully awake
Go on blaming me for your issues
Your perfect life, it's just so fake

You say we have no positive content
I can't pretend everything's alright
You say I have no positive content
Open your mind and behold the sight

You say we have no positive content
I can't pretend everything's alright
You say I have no positive content
Open your mind and behold the sight
You say we have no positive content
You say we have no positive content
You say we have no positive content
But you have no reality at all
