Morning dew drips on her face
As she awakes and stares into the deep And there's no excuse left that she could make No not one lie left for her to keep

'Cause old days have gone so fast burned so bright they could not last, but in the ashes a sign is written:

"Welcome life with arms wide open and gaze into a world so new Open up your heart again and see the gates make their way Close your eyes and make a wish

And you'll see stars falling out of the blue You'll see stars falling into your hands, just welcome life with arms wide open welcome life with arms wide open".

Morning dew drips on her lips
As she walks in days ablaze
The fire's back into her eyes and she tastes life in a thousand new ways and old days have come back so fast they burn so bright, but this will last so she smiles away all those years, and singsâ€¦!

So this is the New World
This is where there is no need for dreams
No room for fantasies
This is where everything's just what it seems

So this is the Real World
This is where lingering's left long behind Here is no error
Here, every human weakness is one to much
