"Touchdown or Fly"

I thought you always hated those lipgloss girls you've dated with skinny legs and all that another illustration of diverted desperation has left you kind of jaded

you hold your head up high
but sometimes you cry
you can't make up your mind to touchdown or fly
but you keep your head up high you're claiming all those tokens for every rule you've broken you're moving in slow motion and all your superheroes have added up to zero as things are getting weird now
