"Lament"

This is our last night,
Blow out the candles and end it with me,
I want to feel you in the fire,
Burning beside me...
All those dreams still remain,
Causing me to forfeit what I once was,
The constant torment,
The stinging regret,
I plead for my innocence...
Waking up with silence,
Going to sleep all alone...
I'm
Burning, hurting, feeling so lonely,
Sinking, sweating, tossing and turning,
Regretting, forget remembering everything,
I just hate the thought of forgetting you...
I lament...
I Lament
Holding hands until the end,
Nothing can hurt me faster than my enemy,
I look in the mirror, I don't see you,
All I see is the truth,
My enemy has always been you,
But the only one that mattered was you...
Where's the love? Where's the hate?
Where's the zion? It's hurting me...
