I don't understand your problems
'Cause you got too many of them, It's hard to relate to you

Well, we've been told that the grass is always greener on the other side, the other side, oh yeah
That doesn't mean we should stop what we're doing on the outside, the outside, OUTSIDE!

We all know that everything changes,
this always seems better than the other
Gotta keep my mind focused on right now
I can't take my eye of thinking 'bout how

Well I don't understand your reasoning 'Cause you know that it really doesn't make any sense to me

Well, we've been told that the grass is always greener
on the other side, the other side, oh yeah
That doesn't mean we should stop what we're doing
on the outside, the outside, OUTSIDE!

We all know that everything changes,
this always seems better than the other
Gotta keep my mind focused on right now
I can't take my eye of thinking 'bout how

You know I'd never say these things to you If they didn't mean something to me
You know I'd never try to get in your head Try to make you believe what I want you to see, yeah
They told me that everything changes, well yeah
Just remember that everything changes

Well, I'm just a casual observer I'm always just taking it in,
I watch the world go by

Well, we've been told that the grass is always greener
on the other side, the other side, oh yeah

That doesn't mean we should stop what we're doing
on the outside, the outside, OUTSIDE!

We all know that everything changes,
this always seems better than the other
Gotta keep my mind focused on right now
I can't take my eye of thinking 'bout how

We all know that everything changes,
this always seems better than the other
Gotta keep my mind focused on right now
I can't take my eye of thinking 'bout how
