buried in words and the imagery left unspoken the selfish lies
the self abuse
that we all seem to use it seems i never notice when i'm all alone left with indescribable feelings left with these feelings while i'm numb we won't try anymore
cause you'll never find it
on our own
we won't try anymore
you'll never find it
on our own
so i'm always still bleeding
always from my insides out always knew that i would get back
and someday and somehow i'd fly
we won't try anymore
you know we'll never find it
on our own its so unknown we won't find it at all we'll never try to
on our own
i've been haunted
is there something in my skin
i never trust myself
i never trust myself
i never trust myself
when i'm alone
we won't fly anymore
i never trust myself
i'll never trust myself
i never trust myself
when i'm alone
