Don't need no cash we can make a dash hit the street
It's always been you and me
Baby it's cool you suck at school anyway
So pack it up let's run away

I know those bruises ain't from falling down
(I'm here to save you from falling down!)
They seem to show when your drunk dad's around
We can go whenever you let go (Just let go!)

Do you remember?
We said we'd run away together...
Holding on to one another
I'll steal the car, steal the credit cards
We'll run forever holding on to one another

This is the day into night I'll be there
You know the time don't be scared
Get all your CD's, get all your posters
Get what you need from their wallets and purses

I know those bruises ain't from falling down (tell the truth!)
(I'm here to save you from falling down!)
They seem to show when your drunk dad's around
We can go whenever you let go (Just let go!)

Do you remember?
We said we'd run away together...
Holding on to one another
I'll steal the car, steal the credit cards
We'll run forever holding on to one another

And when we're all alone
With no one there to bother
(tell the truth!)
I'll treat you like a queen
Forget about your father
There's no means that justify you
Living your whole life in pain... (tell the truth...)

I know those bruises ain't from falling down
They seem to show when your drunk dad's around
We can go whenever you let go...
Whenever you let go!

Do you remember?
We said we'd run away together...
Holding on to one another
I'll steal the car, steal the credit cards
We'll run forever holding on to one another

I'm here to save you from falling down...

Do you remember?
