Wrapped up in her head
She's coming clean again
In her new suitcase
Is her only way out
Yeah a love like this
Shouldn't be so complicated
I'm spinning out
I'm jaded
Remember how
You said you wanted out?
There's nothing new to talk about

Cause everything's changing now
If you're oh so sick of it
Why'd you stay with him?
Everyone's changing now
And now you're oh so sick of yourself

You're not alright
Would you just stop faking it?
It takes time to realize
You're doing fine
If you just get over this
It takes time to realize
Your life's just what you make of it

Oh, I ain't speaking your name
Keep my name out of your mouth
And I'll do the same
Oh hey, oh baby, hey
Feel the blood rush through your head
When you're sleeping in my bed

You're not alright
Would you just stop faking it?
It takes time to realize
You're doing fine
If you just get over this
It takes time to realize
Your life's just what you make of it

Do you think you've had enough?
Does he make you want to fall in love?
Looks like you're afraid to be alone
You're better on your own
Still don't know how I feel about you now
And oh, you're shaking in your bones
Losing control, take it slow

You're not alright
Would you just stop faking it?
It takes time to realize
You're doing fine
If you just get over this
It takes time to realize

You're not alright
Would you just stop faking it?
It takes time to realize
You're doing fine
If you just get over this
It takes time to realize
Your life's just what you make of it
