I feel your breath upon my cheek
I see you there and I weep
I feel something on my chest,
Like when on the stand I am upset

I wish there's something
I think about someone,
Look after me every step,
And every time I'm gonna beg him
Before he Knows what I am asking

I hope you'll never leave me and I feel you know what I am
The worst secret of my life
I know you know and so I can't lie

Since when I was born you're with me
You were the first and you will be
The last to see me alive
The first to come with me in the light

I know I am playing Punk-rock
But I have to tell you what
Are my real thoughts about life
So shut up and let me be
What I am
And what I want
Is to speak with high voice
That if you want beat me
You have to fight yeah two times!

Late at night before my soul goes to sleep
I like to confess to you all I've on my mind
I know you can hear me because I've always seen
How things around me change
And I never ever feel alone before he's always here.
