Sun Eats Hours, The
"That Day"

Visit "That Day" on MotoLyrics.com

I remember that day,
You started to say that this world
Is not a good place to stay
'Cause you have never felt love
Everywhere you have been
Everywhere you have gone
Every society you tried to fit in

Rit.
The world is unfair
But you had to go on
You wrecked your life
And you won't return

You can stand it
All your experiences
Were full of events
Of hate and suffering
But I put up with
All our experiences,
Sometimes with suffering,
But with the consciousness
Of what there was good
Of what there was fine
Of who gave us something to live for
For another day.