Straight out of some story
You walked in in all your glory
I thought you were perfect for me
I was out of my mind
Looked like i was winning
It was the best love i'd ever been in
Just when we were begining
The end - You left me behind

And i was looking forward to a happy ending
So much for pretending

I should have known better
Than to think of happy ever
After- you and me together
I was out my league
I kept my heart hidden
And now i'm wishing that i didn't
Oh who am i kidding
You weren't even intrigued

and i was looking forward to a happy ending
So much for pretending

It could have been beautiful
If i'd only met you
If I'd only let you know
What you meant to me
Nad if i could i would
Glve you a demonstration
Of how my imagintion
Of how it ought to be
So much for pretending

Ooh Yeah Pretending .. Pretending
So much for pretending
