

Sunshine Underground, The "Commercial Breakdown"

Visit "Commercial Breakdown" on MotoLyrics.com

Yeah maybe I'm right
Or maybe I'm wrong
We can fight for
One single way to get along
And we've all got to not shake down!
And I'm only missin' the point
And I guess that's the way they try to generalise

So I tell my problems
You're never gonna get me
If I'm too be busy
A social conscience
I saw it on the TV
At least it keeps me busy

Oh maybe sometimes
I find it hard to comply
With people that don't look you in the eye
And it's because of the commercial breakdown!
And I'm only missin' the point
Is what the media say
Then expect you to turn away

So I told my problems
You're never gonna get me
We're far too busy
And so's your conscience
What story's gonna save me?
At least it keeps me busy
Am I wrong?

Oh, and I used to think that these things happen for a reason
I used to think that these things happen for a reason
I used to think that these things happen for a reason

Visit Sunshine Underground, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.