Forgive me I am sorry
More than anyone can know You'll sit and wait forever but I am not there These words will never break me and this is never gonna change
Outcomes remain the same

Sometimes I sit at night and think about the way it used to be
Never quite what you wanted, but good enough for...

Forgive me I am sorry, more than I could ever show
I'll sit and wait forever
But you are not there
These words will never break me and this is never
gonna change
Outcomes remain the same and listen to me

Sometimes I sit at night and think about the way it used
to be
Never quite what you wanted, but good enough for...

Forgive me I am sorry, more than I could ever show
I'll sit and wait forever
(For what is not there)
Your sight's gone, Your mind's gone, and maybe next time you can open up your eyes and see the way that life has passed by
