Sometimes I feel like I'm alone with you right next to me
We're spinning round and round inside this wheel
I'm gathering up all my thoughts
I'm sure they'll come out wrong
And finally you will know just how I feel

And falling down is just a part of getting up again
You live to live your life tonight
Will this make it right?

Please believe me when I say that I've tried but
You leave me no other way
I can't stand to see that look in your eye and
The way I'd feel if I would stay
I feel like falling down

I'm sure you have some things to say,
A spiteful melody
I'll take your words tonight, it's only fair
You'll burn some bridges to the ground
And leave the mess for me
Put up a front, pretend you care

Please believe me when I say that I've tried but
You leave me no other way
I can't stand to see that look in your eye and
The way I'd feel if I would stay
I feel like falling down

I can't make it on my own
I can't do this alone
I won't pretend you cared
If you never..

And falling down is just a part of getting up again
You live to live your life tonight
Will this make it right?

Please believe me when I say that I've tried but
You leave me no other way

I can't stand to see that look in your eye and
The way I'd feel if I would stay
I feel like falling down
