Breaking down the walls that we've been climbing from the start
I knew this would be hard
And I dont know where I should go now, I dont know what to say today
Cause nothing is okay

For what its worth I'm sorry, For what it's worth I'm wrong
Deny whatever led us here, forget about our love
wrong

I'm beating myself up and breaking myself down again Cause everywhere I look (You're staring back)
I knew it wasn't right, your heart has turned it's back on me
Welcome to my life, yeah....

For what its worth I'm sorry, For what it's worth I'm
wrong
Deny whatever led us here, forget about our love
wrong

Someone told me you said that everything is okay But when I look into your eyes the lies are black as night
Believe me when I tell you and listen to these words, Theres nothing left to say
