If I only had the chance to be right
I could try to get my own words in edgewise
And in your eyes I will not ever see the light
Without a blatant disregard for what I am inside

Theres a hole in the damn and the people dont know
That the pressure's enough to kill the village below
You gotta hold back the water with me
You gotta hold back the water with me

You cant understand these words I say
Your small mind cant calculate it at this pace
And if you'd practice at least one thing that you preach
You might see the golden gates that you need to reach

Theres a hole in the damn and the people dont know
That the pressure's enough to kill the village below
You gotta hold back the water with me
You gotta hold back the water with me
