Waitin for to be confessed
On the floor and all undressed
You can tell me go, tell me I can stay
But I'll forget you either way
Remember when the house come down
A little dirty romance all around
Now I believe every word you say
But I forget you everyday
When I'm layin on top of that woman
Kind of thing, child, could make me crawl
I mean skin and all
Out on the edge of some canyon
Where I just forget and you can't recall
No you can't recall
Momma cry and Daddy moan
Starving in some trailer home
Want to burn it down, burn it where you lay
But I forget you everyday
While I forget you everyday
