I've been chasing days in my mind just to figure out how,
To put up with all the words
I want to say that seems gone now
And I was counting lies the last week just to make the time pass
And this gloominess made me see this possibly can't last

Still I'm searching memories in this sun-bleached pictures So when will I see that my first mistake was to have kissed her

I hold my breath as the winter surrounds me it closes our eyes and we forget how it should be I leaving behind all the smiles and the good times
Aim for the light and hold on 'till the night

Just give me time to re-think
We don't need to keep pretending
That their words are not offending
(aa aa aa aa aa aa)
Time is all we got to deal with
So feel free to take what you need
I no longer need to hear her breathe
(aa aa aa aa aa aa)

Just give me time to re-think
We don't need to keep pretending
That their words are not offending
(aa aa aa aa aa aa)
Time is all we got to deal with
So feel free to take what you need
I no longer need to hear her breathe
(aa aa aa aa aa aa)
