Its a shame you gotta put on make-up today.
I think you look so fine.
You look best when you rise.

Its too bad that you have to leave.
Pay attention when you're driving down the street.
I told you so many times..

Where did you go?
You were here yesterday.
Why did you leave?
Why did you leave?

And now I'm stuck here
thinking about your face.
Why am I so weak?
Why am I so weak?

Just that quick,
my love got into a wreck.
It didn't hurt you
but it got my chest.
How could I be so blind?

Since that day,
all I get is an excuse.
"I'm sorry I can't see you fucking RAH RAH RAH."
I heard 'em all so many times.

Where did you go?
You were here yesterday.
Why did you leave?
Why did you leave?

And now I'm stuck here
thinking about your face.
Why am I so weak?
Why am I so weak?

When you were here we did nothing but fight,
but now that you're gone my life's without light.

I really want to work this out,
and twenty excuses come out of your mouth.

Just when I thought I'd never be alone again,
you turned around and said we should be friends.
I really want to work this out,
and twenty excuses come out of your mouth.

And its so hard to stop calling you around the clock
just so I can sleep.

I'm always here when you're free,
and now its plain to see you're getting bored with me.

Where did you go?
You were here yesterday.
Why did you leave?
Why did you leave?

And now I'm stuck here
thinking about your face.
Why am I so weak?
Why am I so weak?

When you were here we did nothing but fight,
but now that you're gone my life's without light.
I really want to work this out,
and twenty excuses come out of your mouth.

Just when I thought I'd never be alone again,
you turned around and said we should be friends.
I really want to work this out,
and twenty excuses come out of your mouth.

Why do you look so fine?
