I'll find a cave for you
For you to run to
Nothing can break through stone
You'll sleep through winter

You'll never feel the cold
The years will be all warm

You'll bury yourself
When you've had enough
And the world will think
That you've just run off
But I'll always know how you chose to go
Inside your still world
Where winter is broken

If I could build for you
A magic retreat from
Seasons that break your bones
Trust me I'd live to

You'll never feel the cold
The years will be all warm

You'll bury yourself

When you've had enough
And the world will think
That you've just run off
But I'll always know how you chose to go
Inside your still world
Where winter is broken

Trust me, I would build for you
A world for you
Trust me, I would build for you
A world for you

You'll never feel the cold
Your ears will be all warm

You'll bury yourself

When you've had enough
And the world will think
That you've just run off
But I'll always know how you chose to go
Inside your still world
Where winter is broken
